Limited edition prints

All the prints are made using the best quality materials available to insure long-lasting permanence of inks, and they have an estimated life-span of greater than 100 years (for further info see www.hahnemuehle.com). All the prints of this limited editions will be made in a Certified Fine Prints Lab (the same responsible for the printing of the exhibition).

The photographs were printed on Lumijet Radiant White 270 gsm paper by Hahnemuhle. Acid-Free, 100% Cotton Rag Fine Art Paper using pigment-based chromium inks.

All limited editions print purchased will be accompanied with a Certificate of Authenticity signed by the photographer verifying the edition number and authenticity of the print.

A 30% of the revenues goes back to the communities of Masafer Yatta.

The prices don't include framing, but can be arranged in the same printing lab (which is the recommended option in order to ensure the longevity).

Care of the prints

The print surface should not be touched. Professional mounting and framing will help to maximize the longevity of this print. It should be framed using acid-free materials and placed behind glass using a window-mount that prevents the glass from directly touching the print's surface. To further ensure maximum longevity avoid placing the print in bright, sunny rooms where there are high levels of UV radiation, or in humid environment, which will also contribute to its deterioration. Ideally, artificial lighting in a dry environment is the preferred option. With proper care and handling, this fine art photographic print will provide pleasure for generations to come.
